Farming for Future Generations

“Our dream was to have a family business, and that’s what we have today. Sustainability allows the family to continue to farm, maintain the land and go on for many generations.”

- Dennis Groth

SUSTAINABLE VINEYARD PRACTICES

The health of our land is everything.

- Cover crops:
 - Planted to match soil type and vine performance
 - Provide nutrients to soil
 - Increase water-holding capacity of soil
 - Include insectary rows
- Specialized farm equipment: Allows us to control weeds without using herbicides
- Partial no-till soil management:
 - One side of vine disced; other left as cover crop
 - Improves soil organic matter and conserves water
- Fallow blocks: Restoration of soil health before replanting
- Annual compost applications
- Sheep: Enhances carbon sequestration and improves soil health & nutrient content in vineyards

SUSTAINABLE VINEYARD PRACTICES

The health of our land is everything.

- Integrated Pest Management: Through insectary gardens, pheromone tags, resistant rootstocks, owl boxes, and raptor perches, we're working hard to create a welcoming habitat for beneficial insects and animals that keep pests at bay.
- Biochar: Vine cuttings are used to create biochar, which can be mixed with compost and applied to the soil to build organic matter and boost microbial populations.
- Weather Stations: provide vital data for making irrigation decisions, managing vine growth and integrated pest management.
- Soil Analysis: We analyze our soil by digging our 9-foot-deep soil pits, revealing distinct soil layers to analyze their different properties and characteristics, adjusting plantings and farming techniques accordingly.

"We know the job of taking care of our greatest assets, our vineyards, is never done."

- Dennis Groth

THE NEXT 30 YEARS

Knowing the quality of our wines is inextricably linked to the well-being of our vineyards, in 2018, we initiated an extensive regenerative farming and replanting effort to optimize each vine across our two estates over 30 years for our family's future generations of winegrowers.

- Planting: When planting, we adjust trellising, clone selection and grape varieties best suited to the soils and climate.
- New trellising: Optimizes vine growth management
- New clones and varieties: Best suited to soils and climate
 - Cabernet Sauvignon: See Clone - heritage
 - Merlot: Bear Flat Clone - heritage
 - Cabernet Franc: Brings new dimension for Oakcross Proprietary Red

WATER PRESERVATION

Water is a precious resource that we limit and recycle throughout our farming and winemaking.

Winemaking

- Water recycling system: Water from winemaking process goes back in ground cleaner than we found it.
- Ultraviolet light sanitizer: Cleans tanks without using a single drop of water.

Farming

- Reduced deficit irrigation: Soil moisture probes and porometer gauges work in tangent to conserve water and increase quality.
- Fish Friendly Farming: Certified sustainable under rigorous standards.

NEXT-GENERATION WINES

Driven by a shared curiosity and a dedication to continually evolve, Suzanne and the Groth winemaking team set out to explore the potential of the family's cherished estates and the greater Oakville appellation to create wines capturing the distinct character of the vineyards where they are grown.

WINE QUALITY

Continual improvement through incremental advancements in technology, equipment and process

- Basket press: Gentle pressing preserves flavors and aromas
- Mechanical sorter: Along with hand sorting, ensures only highest-quality fruit makes it into our wines
- Automated cap management: Provides consistent pumpover regime
- Cigare barrels and stainless-steel barrels: Provide more lees contact, giving the wine more richness and creamy texture

OUR WINES

Napa Valley Sauvignon Blanc

- While many of our competitors have vacated the Napa Valley AVA, we remain committed to our roots and our identity and QUALITY.
- A profound point of differentiation that needs to be preached!
- Preserving this requires all of us to continually build stronger pricing.

2023 Napa Valley Sauvignon Blanc

Our Sauvignon Blanc is produced from grapes grown in various microclimates of Napa Valley. The warmer areas give us grapes with melon and citrus characteristics in both aroma and flavor. The cooler areas of Napa Valley provide fruit with a solid, crisp backbone that gives the wine an exciting liveliness and balances the rich creaminess from sur lie aging. The Semillon is grown on the Groth family's Oakville Estate and is harvested with the estate Sauvignon Blanc, contributing roundness and weight to the mouthfeel.

- A value in the category
- Napa Valley AVA
- Complex, supple and well-balanced
